Curtis arrived here two weeks ago and was stopping at Cortreala's house. He states that yesterday morning he was awakened by Cortreala slapping his face and accusing him with illicit connection with his wife This Curtis denied, and hot words ensued which resulted in a challenge to fight a duel and its acceptance That afternoon both men proceeded in a carriage to Marianao without witnesses and on arriving dismissed the carriage. Five shots were fired by each beginning at a distance of twenty feet and firing as they advanced. At the fifth discharge Curtis was seriously wounded in the hip and fell to the ground fainting from pain and loss of blood. Upon recovering consciousness he saw Cortreala reload his revolver place it at his temple and fire killing himself Cortreala's body has been brought to this city It is thought he believed his opponent dead when he killed himself Curtis is confined to his bed and is under police surveillance

THE TILTON-BEECHER TRIAL

Everlasting Evarts.

New York, June 7—The Brooklyn court room was crowded as usual this morning Evarts continued summing up the defense saying it was not his purpose to treat of all the random interviews in the years following 1870 It is well however to call attention to the meeting of the 1st of January in which it is alleged that Beecher told Tilton he was ready to comply with the demand for his retirement if insisted upon and that if Tilton said so the renting of pews should not go on The absurdity of this was apparent. There was an extraordinary interview in February for the purpose of ascertaining the paternity of the boy Ralph If this interview was not absurd according to Tilton's own version no power of human language could present an absurdity Tilton testifies that Beecher told him he had no faculty for duties and made no record but believed in his soul that the date assigned by Mrs Tilton was the correct one Beecher in his testimony indignantly denied Tilton's statement of the substance of that interview and said it was about Tilton's immorality and thought his memory conflicted with Tilton's On being recalled the latter only denied an unimportant part of Beecher's testimony

Beecher testified he never denied adultery to Tilton or Moulton and for the reason that such an accusation was never brought against him If in any way imputed he declared that such insinuation by any person would have instantly terminated all intercourse between them The whole course of proceedings in this case was wholly inconsistent with the assertion that such charge was ever made to defendant during this matter

Evarts continued his address to the jury and said they must bear in mind any effort to support or suppress the scandal did not imply fault on the part of any one but the course of Beecher in this matter instead of indicating guilt on his part furnished the strongest proofs of innocence He considered the theory advanced by Tilton to explain the known facts of his connection with Mrs Woodhull. Evarts quoted the testimony showing intimate and affectionate relations between the plaintiff and Mrs. Woodhull He argued that all the facts which Mrs Woodhull published in regard to what took place in the private rooms of Moulton and Beecher's houses after the end of December 1870 must have been derived from Tilton himself Tilton urged Beecher to lock the secret in his breast avoiding discussion of the trouble and then they engineered these elaborate schemes of suppressing the scandal in order to deceive him while they were arranging for its promulgation He portrayed the conduct of Beecher when he learned of Mrs Tilton's flight from her husband not only bringing his own wife in to examine Mrs Tilton as to her domestic affairs but proposing to submit the affairs of that family to the scrutiny of matrons of his church He next discussed the pretense of plaintiff's side that the theory put forth by Moulton that the sending away of Bessie Turner was on Beecher's account According to Moulton's own testimony he asked Beecher to pay the girl's school bill because Tilton couldn't afford to Why did Moulton put it in such a way if it was for Beecher that the girl was sent from Brooklyn Why should Tilton have any interest in paying her bills under such circumstances whether he could afford it or not Counsel for plaintiff denied advantages from what he expected to prove out of the interview with Tracy of Beecher's complicity in the policy of silence and Tracy's suggestion of lying An important fact was that Moulton got permission from Beecher to tell Tracy the truth and they were telling Tracy a series of lies about facts or must stand by his evidence of what he swears as truth and when his testimony comports with the true story their denials of impurity and what Moulton told the exchange people and Wilkeson the jury have proof out of their own mouths. They did what Beecher told them and gave the facts to Tracy They must either stamp Tracy as a perjured witness or as incompetent to understand the case laid before him, or find that extorted confessions exposed the conspiracy and stamp that conspiracy as a confessed one When Tracy says he inquired do you mean to say that Beecher said to your wife I want you to be a wife to me with all that it implies " and he said Tilton answered well I won't say that he used those last words but that's the inference

After reading further extracts from Tracy's testimony court adjourned

EVENING TELEGRAMS

(From the Evening Journal)

The Strikers in Pennsylvania.

New York June 6—A special dispatch from Pottsville Penn, says everything is quiet among the strikers. No further outrages are reported as having been committed

Resolutions were adopted at the miners meeting at Shenandoah last Friday evening that will have the effect, it is thought of putting an end to the strike in Wyoming and Luzerne regions if carried out ultimately in Pottsville

There is great suffering among the strikers They have been idle so long that about all their means have been exhausted and their wives and children are almost starving The strikers are so great in point of numbers that they cannot possibly be provided for when the strike ends and it is believed for this reason their present sufferings will be increased a hundred fold

Everything is also quiet at Mahoney and Shenandoah.

A special from Wilkesbarre states that the miners have rejected all overtures made by Charles Parish for a settlement of the trouble in the Wyoming coal field and Parish says he will now employ and work his mines with men who do not belong to the Miners Union It is expected that this will cause trouble among members of the Miners Union and it is the general opinion that it will result in all Unions being disbanded

Pottsville, Pa June 6—All is quiet to day at Mahoney City and Shenandoah At the former place to-morrow all the collieries that were started last week and stopped by raiders will resume work in the morning

A SCIENTIFIC FALLACY EXPOSED

The St Louis Republican says It was reserved for a boy out on Olive street to produce a new act to the old and oft repeated drama of 'A Dog with Something Tied to His Tail.' It wasn't an old oyster can or split stick of fair, but something entirely new The dog, which was a little black and tan terrier with an aristocratic air was following a lady and the boy was idling along the street with a red toy balloon which he was holding by a string It was a very large balloon as large as those toy balloons ever grow The lady passed the boy and turned the corner The dog came trotting along and was about to pass the boy also when the urchin, impelled by a spirit of evil grabbed him Then still further instigated by the devil and curiosity the boy tied the end of the string in his hand firmly about the dog's tail, about two inches from the end and let go The animal started off with a yelp to rejoin its mistress but it didn't regain her all at once The balloon straightened out the tail in an instant so that it pointed toward the zenith with a kind of excelsior expression and the dog's motions carried out the idea perfectly The wind freshened up a little, and the dog's hind feet were lifted off the ground and then began a series of remarkable but ineffective movements on the part of the animal It didn't seem to be a trained dog but it turned somersaults and stood on its fore feet and sung little snatches of song as never any circus dog in the world did It would make the most tremendous leaps and land exactly in the spot it jumped from and then it would settle down to work with its fore legs and ply them at the rate of 2 000 000 revolutions a minute and get over the ground in a manner that couldn't have been supposed under the circumstances The circumstances were peculiar though and the dog didn't during the entire play get beyond the block The red balloon soared with all the persistency of a Columbian orator's hyperbole, and the terrier's tail refused to break Then the dog got desperate and bounded and struggled and vaulted while the big balloon in the air bobbed up and down like the cork on the line of a giant fishing for whales And all the while the animal sang Finally the string broke and the balloon shot up toward the clouds The dog disappeared at the same time though the boy noticed something like a black and tan streak reaching for seventeen blocks which lasted for a moment only The performance as a whole had been a success but it left a bad impression on the boy's mind He concluded that his schoolmaster must be a fool He had been taught that a body impelled by two forces operating at right angles to each other would take an intermediate course He had just seen that such a body didn't get along at all

The Jacksonville Sentinel of last Saturday says The very favorable spring that we have had has rushed the grass along so rapidly that some of our farmers have already commenced haying The crops throughout the county are also reported to be in excellent condition and the prospects are that the hay and grain crop this season will be unusually heavy

INSTRUCTION FROM OUTSIDE

In an article in Scribner for June entitled Instruction from Outside " Dr Holland says

Institutional life, of all sorts has an innate tendency to get into ruts This is peculiarly the case with institutions of learning With an established curriculum, and a corps of professors who grow old in routine and unprogressive through the constant contact with immature minds and rudimentary knowledge everything tends to become mechanical It is, therefore, with great pleasure that we notice in some of our leading theological schools the movement to impart instruction from outside The lectures of Mr Beecher at New Haven and of Dr Storrs and Dr Hall in this city have been marked and significant events Nothing more suggestive and hopeful than these has occurred in the history of these schools The instruction of these men, all of whom have won eminent positions in the practical functions of the pulpit cannot fail to be of the highest benefit to the young men who so eagerly receive them Nor can they fail to be of the highest benefit to the professors themselves

It is said that a prominent New York pastor has freely declared that he has learned more about preaching the Gospel in three weeks from Henry Varley, than he had ever learned before in his life We believe Mr Varley has had no theological training We know little of his methods but we know that such men as he, and such men as Messrs Moody and Sankey who belong upon our own side of the Atlantic have a power over the popular mind of which theological schools seem absolutely to deprive men The fact goes to show that there is a kind of knowledge of methods and of men which the theological schools do not teach—have not indeed in possession Would it not be well now that these schools have begun to impart instruction to procure for their uses some of the wisdom possessed by the lay element? Why is it that a layman turned preacher has the power to move men so wonderfully? Why except that he knows men better—knows their minds and the motives that stir them better—and gets a little nearer to the three or four essential truths of Christianity and enforces them and stands by them better—than those trained in the professional schools? His work is to save men and he drives directly and persistently at it His method is simple and he knows little and cares for little outside of it

PREVALENCE OF SMALL POX IN QUEBEC

Quebec May 12— It is said that prayers are to be offered in the churches throughout Canada for the abatement of small pox ' So reads an item in one of our papers from the United States I do not know of any greater test of the efficacy of prayer than this would be if one judges of all Canada by Quebec as a sample I dare say thousands of prayers have been and will still be offered for the abatement of this terrible scourge but those less happy people who have less faith in simple faith sigh vainly for works as well as prayers Here for the last six months the city has submitted quietly to the disease and so far except in a few individual cases nothing has been done to get rid of it The Marine Hospital is open to small pox patients and the best possible care is given them I believe Still it is an almost incredible fact that in this city of over 60 000 inhabitants there is not an ambulance or hospital carriage in which to remove a patient to the hospital from his home or boarding place Consequently when a physician is called to see a sick man who is supposed to have merely a fever and discovers small pox in its worst form and advises him to be taken at once to the hospital a friend rushes out and calls a close carriage or covered sleigh After the driver has deposited his passenger at the hospital door he returns to his stand and in an hour or two later is called to take a party of friends to a ball or party In their airy dresses the ladies draw close around their bare necks and arms the warm fur robes in which so short a time before the poor patient hath sought warmth This practice alone is enough to keep the disease spreading from house to house and then when one knows of the almost superstitious prejudice many of the people here have against vaccination and also the careless way in which the family linen is washed of certain houses where the disease really exists or with infected clothing (as a rule the entire washing of Quebec is done in the country by people who make it their business) it is no wonder the doctors find it hard to get control of the disease or that one is not much cheered by the knowledge that prayers are to be offered in all the churches for its abatement Without an irreligious thought I cannot but regret that this interesting item which I have quoted does not read Vaccination is to be compulsory infected clothing is to be washed separately and hospital carriages are to be established all over Canada

And now the Coos Bay and Roseburg wagon road has been sold again This time for $100-000 to a California company, says the Plaindealer

OUR SALEM LETTER

Salem June 1875

To the Editor of the Oregonian

Since my last the State has met with a loss in the burning of the old wooden building formerly occupied as the penitentiary but has since the completion of the new brick building been transformed first into a sawmill and afterwards into a shop that the State Manufacturing Company had fitted up as a boot and shoe shop in which convict labor had been hired from the State and the machinery that had been imported was of the latest and most improved pattern This establishment had just got into successful operation and had found ready sale for their manufacture The fire undoubtedly caught from some of the pulleys beneath the floor caused by friction and the fire spread with astonishing rapidity as there was considerable flax in the factory The fire then spread with such rapidity through the building that none of the machinery could be taken out and from that to the tannery which was soon in a sheet of flames If there had been a strong breeze blowing at the time toward the other shops they would have undoubtedly burned as there was no means of subduing any fires at that institution The convicts worked well but without avail

To day I visited the State fair grounds and found that the executive committee have commenced some very beneficial improvements They have torn down all the unsightly shanties that have heretofore given that place such a temporary and half finished appearance and the streets have been straightened and cleaned out in such a manner that there is now some indications of regularity about the grounds In the pavilion a good new floor has been laid, which was a much needed improvement and adds very materially to appearances The groves are being trimmed and cleared out so as to make pleasant places for ladies and children if the weather should prove warm

The new booths that the society are having erected will be all substantially and uniformly built but the various shows and theaters will find buildings erected which will be better adapted to their wants than heretofore, while the circuses and swings will be so arranged that those who do not wish to attend will not be annoyed with the crash of discordant sounds given forth in brazen notes slanderously known as brass bands

The farmers warehouse of which so much has been said lately is now assuming proportions sufficiently to give an intelligent idea as to what the building will be as the first story is now up The building is 100 feet long with a shed or addition for machinery of twelve feet and fifty feet wide and two stories high The first story is nine feet high and will be used for storing grain in the sack and fill sacks from the bins above which are eight in number being 25x25 and 33 feet deep and the whole eight are calculated to hold 135 000 bushels in bulk The timbers are very strong and remarkably well framed resting on a massive foundation that is composed of the boulder granite rock that is obtained in this part of the State As the grain is received from the wagon it is elevated and run through a fan and thoroughly cleaned before being weighed then conveyed by machinery to any designated bin where it will remain until required The machinery will be propelled by a sixteen horse engine that is being manufactured in this city This warehouse is being built by an incorporated company of farmers with a capital stock of $18 000 divided into $100 shares. Mr Jacob Conser, of Jefferson, is the architect and framer ably assisted by the best mechanics that could be obtained Mr W J Herren is superintendent and agent, and well does he fill the position assigned him

A few days ago this same corporation determined upon building a wharf and dock of 40x100 on inner side and 165 feet on front, connecting with the shutes from the warehouse from which boats can be readily loaded with safety and dispatch

IN THE LATIN QUARTER

The Latin Quarter of Paris thus is called because several hundred years ago the pupil was ordered to speak Latin as soon as he entered the Sorbonne or any of the other colleges situated therein In class and out of class his duty was to talk Latin, first incongruous Latin then ameliorated Latin otherwise called congruous His Latin went with him into the street and the cabaret A common language was necessary to the University embracing several colleges where students came from different parts of the civilized world —and it was Latin In the beginning it was kitchen Latin and in time it was purified to the requirements of the professor

One of the ancient streets is the Ecole de Medecine which is a specimen of what the entire Pays Latin was twenty years ago— tortuous way lined with tall houses of many stories and low ground floors This is the home of S V P Over the lodge of the concierge and at each story of the dwelling one reads Parlez au Concierge S V P Essuyez vos pieds S V P Tournez le bouton S V P, etc Here is the hotel garni of the student of limited resources A somber stairway with a rope for banister leads to the upper stories In a long low room of the first floor the table is spread for dinner—un potage trois plats au choix un dessert et un carafon de vin—violet for one franc and a half Stout young women serve with red hands not over clean The most nourishing part of the repast is the bread at discretion and the diners eat of it accordingly Here are grisettes bareheaded and bonneted free of speech and gesture and on familiar terms with students in neglected costumes long hair and eccentric garments Here they usually remain to take their coffee and a little ... not comprised in the price of the dinner

Sometimes wandering musicians enter to scrape the violin or twang the harp to render the Canotiers de la Seine and sing with a nasal tone

EASTERN WASHINGTON

A SPLENDID SECTION OF COUNTRY FOR SETTLERS—ABUNDANT HARVESTS—SPLENDID WATER POWER—WHY SO NEAR

Burksville W T May 1875

To the Editor of the Oregonian

The late immigrants from the States and old settlers of Oregon who have their eyes turned toward the public domain with the desire of making new homes for themselves may be glad to hear from this section, lying between Snake river and the Blue mountains south of the former and north of the latter

This is a country of rolling prairies and beautiful scenery with soil unexcelled for fertility

Lying upon the northern slope of the mountains, it is of high altitude—1 000 to 2,500 feet above the ocean Some of the timbered mountains south of this reach an altitude of 5 000 feet This section is well supplied with pure water by creeks, rivulets and springs

Timber is convenient of access—a gentle ascent to the mountain timber without rock or ravine to obstruct the way The principal creeks and rivers of this region are Touchet and its several branches Tucannon Pataha Alpowa and Soton, or De Soton The last named empties into Snake above Lewiston Tucannon is the finest stream for water powers near the Pacific coast or at least excelled by none being an even but rapid running stream its column of water varying, but little with the different seasons of the year It never freezes over nor forms floating ice In summer the water is cold and pure

The towns Waitsburg and Dayton are situated on the Touchet 11 miles apart Their accommodating merchants and industrious mechanics are of great benefit to the farmers of this region The settlers of the Palouse country do much of their trading at these towns Each of these towns is having good flouring mills wagon and all other mechanic shops needed for the prosperity of the country

Dayton woolen factory deserves a high reputation both for the quality of its fabrics and the extent of its productions Dayton's growth and improvements in the way of machinery have not been equaled by any young town in the western territories As soon as Walla Walla is favored with a railway connecting it with the coast, Dayton will demand and obtain a railway connection with Walla Walla via Waitsburg a distance of 30 miles which will make Dayton the railroad depot for the Palouse and other extensive farming countries Tucannon and Snake river will not admit of a rail extension to any important point farther up the country, which will throw the trade to Dayton from a large area of farming country

As yet there is no store or trading point between Dayton and Lewiston a distance of 51 miles Lewiston is on the north bank of Snake which makes it inconvenient for settlers on this side to trade at that point

Burksville is as yet in a state of embryo It is situated on the east side of a beautiful little valley of Willow creek a small tributary of Tucannon It is 12 miles from Dayton on the main road thence to Lewiston A stock of goods will probably be brought to this place this summer for a retail business

These undulating prairies, with their heavy coat of green grass interspersed with wild flowers of every hue, afford beautiful landscape scenery The wild rose is now blooming, which continues the variety while the myriads of wild sunflowers are shedding their petals

The common yield of wheat or corn per acre is 40 bushels of oats or barley 50 to 60 bushels Flax does well He who plants is certain of a harvest No failure of crops has ever been known in this country, except a part of same fields which have been destroyed by crickets last year and this, but that is only a temporary evil Crickets continue their mischief only three years in the same vicinity The Pataha country (ten miles east of this) has been afflicted with crickets the last three years but this year there are none Crickets every year would not be a pest to the farmer equal to fern or sorrel either of which does not exist in this country

The only objection to this country is too much wind, though that keeps off the frost while lower countries are not thus favored There has been no frost here since the 12th of April The first frost here last fall was on the 22d of October

Money is scarce here but products of the farm are much cheaper than in any other country which makes in favor of the new settler Wheat 45 cents per bushel; flour at Dayton, $1 per 100 pounds cornmeal, $1 25 per 100 pounds beef on the block, 5 to 6 cts bacon 10 cents hogs (dressed) 5 cents lumber (pine) at Dayton $15 per M and at the mills $12 per M to be bought with labor at $35 to $40 per month milk cows $14 to $20 Labor on farm is worth $30 to $35 per month

LOSS OF THE 'GOTHENBURG '

AN AUSTRALIAN STEAMSHIP WRECKED—115 LIVES LOST

The steamship Gothenburg left Port Darwin on the 16th of February bound for Adelaide South Australia having on board about one hundred passengers and a crew of thirty-seven The weather was fine till the 24th when it became misty The sea was high all day and a strong wind was blowing and the vessel was making an unprecedented voyage with all steam up and sail set At 6 15 P M the sea suddenly became smooth though the wind continued fresh as ever The captain was just coming up from dinner—the first meal he had not taken on the bridge for several days—when the ship

RAN ON A CORAL REEF

About thirty five miles from Cape Upstart sending three parts of her length ashore Sail was lowered and efforts made to back her off but in vain With the turn of tide at 11 P M these were renewed the cargo having been shifted but these proved equally unsuccessful At 3 30 A M the engines gave way All night the wind had been freshening and the sea rising but the reef broke the seas and there would probably have been no loss of life had not the wind veered to northwest at 3 o'clock bringing in a heavy sea that broke over the vessel The two port boats were lowered each with four men, but could not keep alongside and

WERE WASHED AWAY

Their crews made land in safety There was little or no confusion on board, though a high sea was running and threatening to wash the ship and a storm of rain lightning and thunder was raging with tropical fury The passengers had collected near the bridge, and some had lashed themselves to the rigging The sea rose and just before daybreak began to sweep over the vessel each wave carrying off a victim or two of the weaker ones The ladies had been placed in the life-boat, which was about to be launched when an immense sea swept over the Gothenburg and carried every living soul away save those in the fore rigging The

THE BOAT WAS SWAMPED

And the quarter boat upset The sea around was a mass of men and women struggling for life Mrs Osterman ' says a survivor was the only woman who seized the lifeboat She caught hold of the keel near the stern and struggled bravely and held on until she was nearly drowned and then she let go She was gone and the few of us looking on painfully unable to assist her I saw none other of the ladies after this I recognized Cartwright, Sr swimming to a box or hencoop He got on it but was washed across the reef seaward with his face toward us There were now fourteen men on the main mast five near the mainyard and nine lower down The next sea

SWEPT AWAY SIX OF THESE NINE

Though some of them recovered the ship with the back wash They remained on the rigging till the morning of the 26th when they baled out a boat, cut sail from the ship's canvas and sailed away a steamer rescuing them Of 100 passengers 90 were lost, including Mr Justice Wearing and Mr Thomas Reynolds formerly Premier of South Australia Of the crew of thirty seven only twelve were saved making 115 lives lost

Our Flannels—The value of flannel next the skin cannot be overrated It is invaluable to persons of both sexes, and all ages, in all countries, in all climates, at every season of the year, for the sick and the well. In brief, I cannot conceive of any circumstances in which flannel next the skin is not a comfort and a source of health It should not be changed from thick to thin before the settled hot weather of the summer, which, in our Northern States, is not before the middle of June, and often not before the first of July And the flannels for the summer must not be three quarters cotton, but they must be all woolen, if you would have the best protection In the British army and navy they make the wear of flannel a point of discipline During the hot season the ship's doctor makes a daily examination of the men at unexpected hours, to make sure that they have not left off their flannels

Another Popular Fallacy Dispelled—A correspondent of the New York Evening Post completely knocks in the head the long prevalent idea that General Putnam rode furiously down a long flight of steps at Horse Neck during the revolutionary war It has always been a lesson deeply impressed upon the childish mind, and even the school histories contain illustrations showing the gallant General speeding his horse at a terrible rate down a steep stairway It has occurred to us that it was a pretty dangerous ride, but as it was fixed in history, the reception of the story was inevitable The correspondent referred to says that Putnam quietly rode at varying angles down the surface of the hill, near the steps Then, hang it, we are a deceived and ruined man —Louisville Courier Journal

The Idaho World of the 2d inst says "Last Sunday evening we, in company with Mr Julien Hill visited the hydraulic claims of Messrs Hill & Riordon, on the south side of Moore's creek While there we went over a slide which came during the forenoon of the same day It was about 400 feet long by 100 wide Not much damage is sustained, but the water will probably not last long enough to wash all the slide away,"

We All Have Our Satans—Each one of us a different Satan Satan comes to one man in the form of idleness, and makes him waste day after day, year after year, until he has wasted his whole life doing nothing Satan comes to another man as work, and makes him destroy himself in the opposite way by wearing out prematurely his brain and his body. He comes to another as Christian zeal, and the man becomes a bigot, full of fire for the Lord; but the Lord whom he serves is a God of wrath, a God who cares for trifles, a God who prefers sacrifice to mercy He comes to another as charity, but it is a charity which tolerates evil and lets it alone, which has no edge to it, no courage, an intolerant charity which is no love at all, but only easy good nature So he disguises himself as an angel of light, calling himself patriotism, when he wishes to make nations hate each other; calling himself Christianity when he wishes to make men persecute each other, calling himself honesty when he wishes to encourage a man in his rude and overbearing ways; and so on, changing himself into every virtue and every grace. —James Freeman Clarke.

SOME RESOLUTIONS THAT SHOULD BE OMITTED.

Whether the remarkable uniformity of the anti-third-term resolutions adopted in various quarters is the result of mutual understanding and prearrangement among the Republican politicians, or simply the expression of that instinct of good nature which seeks to soften as far as possible the declaration of hostility to the laudable aspirations of a friend, may be debatable. Certain it is, that the wisdom of the party, concentrated in its various State and county conventions, concludes with singular and cheering unanimity that the traditions of the Republic against any third-term scheme are entitled to the respect of law, and that our esteemed chief magistrate must retire to the shades of private life at the expiration of his present term of service. It may be reasonably presumed that the general sentiment of community on this subject is so well defined that no convention or assembly, charged with the work of laying out the ground for a political campaign, could fail to understand it or could afford to disregard it; and that from this fact alone might arise the unanimity of the conventions in declaring against the third term. But there is another feature of these resolutions which admits of no explanation based on the theory of a recognition of universal public sentiment. It can hardly be claimed the laudations of the disinterested patriotism and purity of the President's administration of the government, with which the resolutions against the third term are invariably coupled, are merely the embodiment and formulation into proper phrase of such a popular administration of the President or of the means and methods employed by him, as forces itself into expression through the conventions. There is in the country no such irrepressible enthusiasm for the administration as this hypothesis presupposes. In truth, it must be admitted that the general feeling which of late has possessed the public mind is exactly the opposite of that suggested. More perhaps from bad associations, to which the President appears to have a fatal leaning, than from any inherent badness in himself, he has succeeded better than his enemies could have hoped in exciting among the people, those of his own party not excepted, a general distrust of his measures, if not of his motives. His first administration was popular. His second thus far, and especially that portion embraced in the last six or seven months, has been exactly the reverse. It is by no means certain that any Republican administration would have been able to carry the country through the period of Grant's two terms satisfactorily to the masses. The readjustment of social relations in the South, under the new political organization, could not but be attended with friction and give rise to much complaint; and the opposition would naturally lose no opportunity to take advantage of local contentions to foment general disaffection. But, while it would be pleasant to account for the unpopularity of the administration wholly on this ground, every candid person of ordinary intelligence must admit that such an explanation is but partially true. The chief dissatisfaction arises not from the intrinsic difficulties of the situation itself, but from causes that ought not to exist. Burke's strictures upon Grenville's administration apply to this country and to these times with as great appropriateness as if they had been written expressly for this occasion. "The inclinations of the people," he wrote, "were little attended to; and a disposition to the use of forcible methods ran through the whole tenor of administration. The nation, in general, was uneasy and dissatisfied. Sober men saw cases for it in the constitution of the ministry and the conduct of the ministers, while the ministers, who have usually a short method on such occasions, attributed their unpopularity wholly to a spirit of faction." And again, it reads more like inspired prophecy concerning the state of society that has been developed in our Southern States lately, than a portrait of times through which his own country had just passed, when he says, "The licentiousness and tumults of the people had at no time risen to a greater or more dangerous hight. The measures taken to suppress that spirit were as violent and licentious as the spirit itself; injudicious, precipitate and, some of them, illegal. Instead of allaying, they tended infinitely to inflame the distemper; and whoever will be at the least pains to examine, will find those measures not only the causes of the tumults which then prevailed, but the real sources of almost all the disorders which have arisen since that time. More intent on making a victim to party than an example of justice, they blundered in the method of pursuing their vengeance."

That was written of England more than a century ago, but is a true picture of America to-day in almost every feature and lineament. With the exception of those members of the Cabinet who have but just now entered it, the parallel is complete. What then is the explanation of the sugar-coating resolutions with which the anti-third-term declarations are so constantly yoked? If they are merely the expressions of the disposition of the party to let down its great leader easily they are exhibitions of weakness which, howsoever amiable, would better not be made. And if they are, as may be suspected without doing violence to appearances, a preconcerted job of whitewashing, they are still more objectionable. In any view we venture to offer the party a gratuitous suggestion, that every such performance diminishes its prospects for success before the people, now and next year.

MASSACHUSETTS TEMPERANCE.

There is a little music in Massachusetts just now. At the Lexington centennial celebration there was an entertainment at the public expense at the Revere House, whereat, as appears by the bill of the host, the guests made way with between four and five hundred dollars worth of liquors and cigars. And now the State Temperance Alliance of that commonwealth is scandalized to the point of rebellion by the facts in the premises. They cite the law forbidding the sale of liquor for use as a beverage, and are unwilling to believe the government of Massachusetts has been guilty of the disregard of its own laws, which this transaction involves. "The king can do no wrong," says the English legal maxim. So can the governor of Massachusetts, says the Alliance, and therefore this charge is a fraud on the people, and a libel on the chief magistrate of the State of Boston and Cambridge. But the proprietor of the Revere declares if the temperance people were as incapable of doing a wrong as they believe the governor to be, he would have less trouble in getting his dues.

NO MORE THIRD TERM FOOLERY.

"The President's late quasi-disavowal of third-term intentions has been wholly unsatisfactory to the Republicans of this State, and some expressive declaration of opinion in that direction seems both appropriate and essential. The State central committee are expected to meet before long; and we venture to suggest that they adopt and publish a resolution of aversion to that odious proposition. That will be somewhat in advance of precedent and the usual order of things, it is true; but the exigencies of the time, particularly in this State, seem to require some positive and unusual action which shall be representative in its character. Other circumstances are all favorable to the success of the Republican party in the impending election; there is no considerable antagonism between the late conflicting elements of the party, and it only remains to unload that accursed old man of the sea and deprive our adversaries of that destructive weapon of offense. We hope, then, that the committee, in their representative capacity, will take a necessary step in advance and issue a declaration of principle which shall at once relieve the party of that hateful incubus."

The above we find in the Statesman. We have "no knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief" about those "circumstances" that are favorable to the success of the Republican party, or about the subsiding of the "antagonism between the late conflicting elements of the party;" but we don't see as that has much to do with the third term question. The "hateful incubus" of the third term scheme is hateful on principle, and ought to be repudiated by the Republican party, irrespective of the question of conciliating the "elements."

EXACTLY RIGHT.

A court in Chicago has made a precedent that ought to be followed whenever a case for the application of its principle occurs. We refer to the proceedings had yesterday by Judge Williams against the councilmen who violated an injunction that had been issued out of the court over which he presided. Each of the contumacious officers was fined $100, and the attorney who advised the violation of the injunction was mulcted in three times that sum. The punishment of all parties to the contemptuous proceedings was demanded by considerations of the highest public interest, as it is in every case in which parties presume to trample upon the orders of a court of justice, but the imposing of a triple penalty on the attorney who advised his clients to such a course deserves special praise. A lawyer cannot deliberately engage in any such proceedings without violating the letter and spirit of his oath as an officer of the court and his professional duty; and one who lays himself liable to a charge of that kind gets off very well if he is not disbarred.

CITY.

ON ARREST.—Nicholas Sheridan, a painter who resides in East Portland, was arrested yesterday charged with larceny. Some time in March, a young Englishman named A. G. Mearson, came to the city and took up lodgings at the American Exchange hotel. Mearson soon after his arrival, got on a spree and upon sobering up, became acquainted with Sheridan. During the time they associated together, Sheridan visited Mearson's room at the hotel and the latter went to the former's house and took dinner. One day Mearson missed from his room a small box which contained about $20 in coin, and English bank notes of the denomination of five and ten pounds sterling to the amount of $250, also a letter of credit, other papers, and a number of articles of considerable value. Chief Lappeus was acquainted of the fact, but could do nothing for want of evidence. Mearson stated at the time that he strongly suspicioned Sheridan of having something to do with the theft; however, no arrest was made for want of proof. The chief took the number of each of the missing notes, and description of the other stolen articles. Since the theft Lappeus has kept a sharp lookout for the notes and did not fail to keep an eye on Sheridan. Nothing, however, was discovered until a few days ago when Sheridan tried to negotiate one of the notes at Ladd & Tilton's bank. Mr Quackenbush suspected something was loose, and quietly sent off for Lappeus. After consultation it was determined to arrest Sheridan. On searching him one of the notes was found on his person, which corresponded in number and description to the list furnished by Mearson. A search warrant was issued and Chief Lappeus proceeded to Sheridan's home in East Portland. He discovered another note and a number of the missing trinkets among which was an elegant pocket compass very highly prized by Mearson. Sheridan it appears, has been down to Astoria since the robbery and succeeded in disposing of several of the notes to the captains of English vessels. He also sold two to the Bank of British Columbia. When questioned about the matter, Sheridan said he purchased the notes and trinkets from a man named Lynch. The letter of credit cannot be found and has probably been destroyed. The case will come up for examination in police court to-morrow. No bonds have been furnished and Sheridan is still in custody. Accused is a painter by trade, and has heretofore borne a good character for industry and honesty. He fought in the late civil war and lost an arm in defense of his country.

SUBSISTENCE CONTRACTS AWARDED.—Maj. W. A. Bell, chief commissary of subsistence of the Department of the Columbia, has awarded the following contracts: For 60,000 lbs of flour to be delivered at Portland, to J. H. Foster, at $5 per bbl of 200 lbs; for 43,000 lbs flour at Fort Harney, to J. Wise at $4 60 ₱ cwt and 6,000 family flour at $5 70 ₱ cwt; for 41,000 lbs flour at Fort Klamath, to Robert V. Moody, at 3½c ₱ lb and for 5,000 lbs family flour at same place, to Fisher & Caro, at 3¾c ₱ lb; at Fort Boise, for 22,000 lbs flour and 2,000 lbs family flour to Wm H Drake at 4c ₱ lb; at Fort Walla Walla for 115,000 lbs flour, to [illegible] McCully, at $3 22 ₱ bbl and for 10,000 lbs family flour, to H B Isaacs, at [illegible] ₱ lb; at Fort Vancouver, for 54,000 lbs flour, to J H Foster at $5 35 ₱ bbl of 200 lbs; at Fort Colville, for 15,000 lbs flour, to Sampson Ipper, at 4½c ₱ lb; at Fort Townsend, for [illegible] lbs flour, to Miller, Marshall & Co at 3 [illegible] ₱ lb; at Ft. Stevens for 30,000 lbs flour to J. H. Foster, at $5 58 ₱ bbl of 200 lbs; at Fort Canby, for 30,000 lbs flour, to Miller, Marshall & Co, at 3 35-100c ₱ lb.

IMMIGRATION.—We learn that one of the immigrants who recently made application to the board for information in regard to the purchase of a farm, brought with him $25,000 in gold coin, and that he is already in possession of his new found farm in the valley of the Willamette. This is the sort of "new comers" our country needs. But in saying this we would not discourage the poor man from coming here also. It would be difficult to find a country anywhere under the sun, where industry, perseverance and frugality will meet with such sure and such speedy reward as this. Idlers, speculators, or any of the Gradgrined class, who, with their hands in their pockets are willing for something to turn up, and make them rich, it is surely a poor place, but to the hard-working tiller of the soil, it is the easiest of all others to secure an early competence and comfortable home. So we bid all a hearty welcome.

OMISSION.—In our mention of the closing scenes in the first picnic given by the printers of Portland, we omitted to speak of the display made by the officers of the ship City of Panama as the excursion steamer passed that vessel on the home trip. They were lavish in the matter of displaying blue lights and other pyrotechnics which presented a beautiful sight to all those who were able to see it. At the Mu[illegible] a brilliant light was kept burning immediately on the arrival of the boat at the [illegible] front. The printers are greatly indebted to Mr George Hughes, the well known pyrotechnist, for a liberal supply of fireworks on this occasion, though late to express their acknowledgments. To one and all who took an interest in the affair in various ways the typos feel grateful.

FUNERAL.—Headed by the Northwestern Band, the remains of the late Daniel Norton were conveyed yesterday afternoon to the [illegible] Cemetery, and laid to rest. While on the way from the late residence of deceased to the place of interment, the band played a number of funeral dirges, which lent additional solemnity to the occasion. Following the band came the Emmet Guard, of which organization deceased was a member in life, in full uniform, with arms in reversed order. A long line of carriages, containing the wife and friends of deceased, completed the cortege. In respect to the memory of the departed the flag and the national colors over the armory of the Portland Light Battery were displayed at half mast yesterday.

DRAMATIC LITIGATION.—Says the S F Bulletin of the 4th inst: "Hattie Roche, an actress, has filed complaint in the fourth district court to recover $550 from W H Lingard, the actor, for violation of contract. Plaintiff avers that in March last, the defendant made an engagement with her to perform with the Lingard troupe at $20 per week salary, traveling expenses, board, etc, and an additional salary of [illegible] per week while playing in San Francisco. He notified her on the 1st of May that her services were no longer required and she claims the above amount of damages for breach of contract."

CHANGING OFFICES.—A general change of offices is now taking place at the headquarters of the department of the Columbia. All the officers which have heretofore occupied the third story of the building are being removed to the second, and those on the second story are hereafter to occupy the rooms on the third floor. When we visited the room of the adjutant general yesterday we found all the halls blockaded with indiscriminate heaps of office furniture, and everything in a chaotic condition. Everything will be adjusted in a few days, and order brought out of disorder.

ATTEMPT AT SUICIDE.—In the San Francisco Chronicle of the 4th inst. we find a long account of an unsuccessful attempt to commit suicide, made by a Mrs Chaney. She first swallowed a dose of laudanum, and afterward shot herself with a pistol. Both times she failed to destroy herself. The lady is the wife of one Prof W H Chaney who formerly resided in Portland and lectured frequently on the subject of spiritualism and astrology. Domestic infelicity is the alleged cause of the suicidal attempt.

WAIVED EXAMINATION.—H Whiteaker was arrested late on Sunday evening on complaint of his brother in law, a man named Purvis, charged with an assault with a dangerous weapon, and committed to jail. Yesterday morning the case came up for examination in police court. The defendant waived an examination and was held to answer the charge before the grand jury in the sum of $200. He furnished the required bonds and was discharged from custody.

STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL.—The Good Templars propose to have an ice cream and strawberry festival on to-morrow (Wednesday) evening at their hall, at the close of the session of the Grand Lodge, which meets to-day. All are invited.

UNITARIAN ENTERTAINMENT.—The children and members of the Unitarian Sunday school will give an entertainment at the Unitarian chapel this evening. For some time past the affair has been in preparation and a most attractive programme will be presented we have no doubt. The proceeds will be applied to the library fund of the Sunday school. That the attendance will be large there is every reason to believe.

WEATHER REPORT.—From the records of the U S Signal Station of Observation, Portland, Oregon, June 7, 1875:

	7 A M	2 P M	9 P M
Thermometer	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Wind direction	Calm	N	S W
Wind, velocity	0	[illegible]	[illegible]
Weather	Cloudy	Fair	Fair

SLOWLY RECEDING.—By latest telegraphic information from up the Columbia we learn that the water is slowly receding. At Wallula the river has fallen three-quarters of an inch since Sunday morning. However it is thought that the present warm weather will cause the snow to commence melting and bring the river up again.

ATTENTION, COMMITTEE.—By order of the chairman there will be a meeting of the general committee of arrangements connected with the Printers Picnic given on Saturday, at the OREGONIAN office to-day at 12 M., sharp. There is important business to transact and every member of the committee is expected to be present.

GRAND LODGE I. O. G. T.—This morning at 10 o'clock the Grand Lodge, I. O. G. T., of Oregon and Washington Territory will convene at Good Templar Hall. It is expected that a full representation will be present from all the lodges included in the limits of the district. The lodge will probably remain in session several days.

LARGE FREIGHT.—The steamer Oneonta did not reach her wharf last evening until eight o'clock. The detention was occasioned by the very large freight which the steamer brought down. An immense number of dry hides and a large quantity of wool besides other freight, constituted the cargo.

CATTLE.—Last evening the steamer Oneonta brought down 10 head of beef cattle from east of the mountains. Sixty five head of these animals will be shipped to Kalama this evening and from thence to Victoria to supply the meat market there. These cattle are in splendid condition for slaughtering.

SHEEP.—A large drove of sheep belonging to Messrs Johnson & Spaulding, will be taken down the river this morning on the Welcome. These sheep will be landed at Kalama and from thence shipped to the Sound to supply the markets.

TO REMOVE.—On Thursday Drs Chance & Welch, the well known dentists, will remove to the Odd Fellows Temple, where they propose to fit up rooms in elegant style for the reception of patrons.

TREASURE SHIPMENT.—During the month of May the following shipments of treasure have been made to San Francisco by Wells, Fargo & Co: Currency, $15,894; coin, $110,602; bullion, $38,0[illegible].

W. F. M. S.—The quarterly meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, of the Presbyterian church, will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the vestry of the church.

POLICE COURT NOTES.

Dan Owen, drunk; fined $10; did not pay; committed for 5 days.

Michael Magher, a drunken, worthless vagrant, was committed to jail for five days.

Geo Edwards for getting drunk and engaging in a street brawl was fined $15; did not pay.

Wm Marooney, for tampering too freely with corn juice in an unadulterated form, purchased his freedom by depositing $5.

A man named Peter Smith, arrested for conducting himself in a disorderly manner, was discharged for want of sufficient evidence.

Martin Raymond, who was arrested several days ago for making improper advances toward several young girls, was arraigned in court yesterday morning. The case was continued until this morning.

BALL AND BAT.

A match game was played at Gervais on the 6th inst., between the first and second nines of the Nipper clubs. The second nine came off first best, the score standing first nine 17, second nine 25.

A correspondent writing from Salem says: "While the College club of Salem regret their disastrous defeat of Friday last at the hands of the plucky little Aldines they are by no means demoralized and on the occasion of the second game which will be played on Friday next they will enter the field with a reorganized nine, and will undoubtedly play a much better game and make it more tropical for their antagonists. The Aldines will have after practice at 1 P. M. and the College club at 6 P. M. to enable Carroll and Taylor to be on hand, neither of whom played last Friday."

THE COURTS.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT—DEADY, J.

MONDAY, June 7, 1875.

Richard Fitzpatrick vs Andrew Dubois et al; ordered that upon application of J. H. Woodward, based upon due notice an appeal to supreme court of United States be allowed.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

After considerable preparation Mr Wm Pfunder has removed to his new drug store corner of Ash and First streets, the stand formerly occupied by S M Smith. The place has been made very attractive as well as convenient. Mr Pfunder will, as usual give particular attention to the compounding of prescriptions. Call and see him.

PERSONAL.

Hon R P Boise, Col N B Knight and Major Lord of Salem are in this city in connection with important litigation before the U S circuit court.

PICNICS.

The Turn Verein will hold another picnic at Canyon Gardens on Sunday, July 11th. All who present the badges given them at the same place on Sunday May 30th will be admitted free.

Free Musical concert this evening by Prof Sedlack's juvenile band at the museum. 70,000 sights and a feast of music for 25 cents.

The best dressed men in town are wearing Warwick collars. They say there is nothing like them for comfort.

FOUND.—On First street between Morrison and Alder No 105 the place where watches, clocks and jewelry can be bought at reasonable prices, and where watch repairing is done at a lower price than at any other establishment in this city. Call on W Friedlander.

BRIEF NOTES.

Ice water season is in.

Steamer due this evening.

Picnic season has fully arrived.

Grand Lodge I O G T convenes to-day.

New pavements are being laid at different points.

A full docket disposed of yesterday morning in police court.

Beer was dispensed quite lively the past two days at the resorts.

Decidedly sultry yesterday, but that is unusual at this season.

Thousands of cultivated strawberries are now flooding the markets.

Strawberries are getting so numerous that prices rule down remarkably low.

Mr Lynch, the advance agent for the Lingard troupe, is a passenger on board the Ajax.

One hundred and fifty steerage passengers are on board the steamer Ajax, due here this evening.

Twelve States have a Fayette county; 17 have Greene and 2[illegible] have counties named for Washington.

L W Ryan, who has been absent nearly a year on a visit east, is a passenger on the incoming steamer.

On next Sunday the Independent German School will hold their annual picnic at the Canyon Gardens.

The Odd Fellows of this city propose to hold a picnic on the 10th inst. As yet the committee has not selected the ground.

The girls who wear those thick impenetrable veils are not pretty ones. You would only be disappointed if you saw their faces.

You may expect fresh (?) vegetables from San Francisco by steamer to-morrow. About time we raised a liberal supply at home to cut off the foreign lots.

Under the head of Oregon items a San Francisco paper has this: "Tillamook county is fast settling up with emigrants from the East." Where is that county?

Says an Idaho paper: "We return thanks to Mr J W Reel for late Portland papers among which was a copy of the OREGONIAN. It is the best paper in Oregon."

The Seattle Dispatch of May 27th reached us by due course of a very slow mail on the 7th inst. We received New York papers of the same date at the same time.

A few evenings since, while a gentleman was crossing Sixth street at Morrison, he was suddenly attacked by a large terrier dog and severely bitten in the calf of the leg.

In mentioning the sale of the Holbrook estate which took place at the court house on last Thursday, we unintentionally omitted the name of Mr A B Richardson who was auctioneer.

Mrs Elizabeth Johnson, who resides at the corner of L and Eleventh streets, East Portland, has laid on our table a small box of very large and splendidly flavored strawberries which were gathered from a patch in her yard.

A narrow gauge railroad man gets off the following:

Broad is the gauge that leads to death
And thousands sink their money there
But wisdom shows the narrow path
That saves—on freight and passen—ger.

East Portland Park has been selected for the first picnic to be given for the benefit of the school connected with the Congregation Ahavi Sholom. The time set for the affair is Sunday, June 20th and great preparations are being made to render the visit of all to the grounds pleasant in every particular.

One of our storekeepers has a clerk who is a base ballist. On Saturday the clerk had an engagement to play in a game and the boss had business out of the city. Boss called clerk and asked if he might make the trip and the clerk said he might if he wished. He was going to play ball himself, and he did not like to interfere with his employer's engagements. The affair could be accommodated by closing the store. The boss remained at home that day.

MEACHAM'S INDIANS.

The following account of the return of Meacham's Indians we obtain from the Yreka Journal, of the 2d inst:

Our readers will remember Meacham's visit here some months ago, to procure representatives of different Indian tribes in this vicinity and Oregon, from which he selected Harney and wife of the Klamaths and Toby Riddle of the Modocs with her white husband, Frank Riddle. On his way East, he failed to secure a representative of the Piutes in Nevada but obtained two of the Modocs at Indian Territory as well as other Indians. Oliver Applegate returned to this coast with Harney and wife and Tecumseh, the former arriving here Sunday and the two latter the day previous. We interviewed Harney, the Rogue river chief, who seems to be an educated and intelligent Indian, having been raised at the Siletz reservation and therefore as fully civilized as the white people. He says the troupe met with very good success, and traveled considerable, giving exhibitions in all the principal towns and cities. In some places the religious people did not approve of their war dances or any other dances, and did not patronize them, else they might have been more successful. They visited the President on the way, and remained in Washington about a month visiting the various places of interest, with carriages at their disposal to ride wherever they desired. In New York they lost Dave Hill—supposed to be kidnapped in the hope of obtaining a reward. He had evidently gone out alone and disappeared very mysteriously without any clue to his abrupt departure. Every nook and corner of the city was diligently searched by the police, and dispatches sent everywhere to discover his whereabouts, but without success up to this date. It is also supposed that his kidnappers have taken him to Europe for exhibition there, and that he was probably taken on board the steamship Schiller, lately wrecked on the Scilly Islands. A full description of Hill was telegraphed to Europe so that there can be no trouble in identifying him. David Hill was the head chief of the Klamaths, now quartered on the Klamath reservation near Fort Klamath, a well informed Indian, and good orator, and his people will no doubt be much excited over his kidnapping. Tecumseh, the medicine man who arrived with Harney, is also considered a head man in the tribe. Donald McKay, the chief of the Warm Springs Indians who exhibited such great bravery and skill in fighting the Modocs at the lava beds, is in the poor house at Boston. Riddle and wife are in New York with Meacham, where they intend to remain. Harney and Tecumseh remained in town a couple of days, the former visiting some of the Indians about here and having a talk with them. Harney goes back to Siletz reservation and Tecumseh to the Klamath reservation. Scarface Charley and Shacknasty Jim accompanied the expedition at the start and have also returned to the reservation in Indian Territory, where Captain Jack's band is quartered.

The railroad war and other events that have occupied the attention of the public for days past were nothing as compared with the excitement created by BUCK & WALDMAN, the well known Clothiers, who are selling their Summer Stock of Clothing, Men and Boys wear, at fearfully low prices. Before making a purchase step into their place and see what they can do for you. The stock of furnishing goods at this house is complete.

Big Bonanzas are all very well in their way, but that popular dealer in Clothing, JOS KOHN, opposite to the National Bank, is content to serve his many patrons and the public in general with the very best goods in his line and to give the purchaser the benefit of low prices during the dull times. His stock of Clothing, Furnishing Goods, etc., was never more complete. You will never regret your purchases at Kohn's. Call to-day.

AT THE GREAT EASTERN CLOTHING STORE they are offering the finest Clothing to be found in the city at prices that defy competition. There you can select from the latest styles which are laid in by the arrival of every steamer from San Francisco. A full line of Furnishing Goods, Youths' Suits, Valises and Trunks constantly on hand. Call at the Great Eastern Clothing Store. W. HARRIS, Proprietor, 125 First street.

COLD LUNCHES.—The oyster season having closed, WALLER & SON, Oak street, between First and Second, will serve hare lunches to their patrons at all hours. THE OXFORD SALAD DRESSING, their own preparation, is meeting with great favor. Try it.

PLEASURE BOATS.
I have a number of Sail and Row Boats ready at any moment to let at reasonable charges. Boats made to order.

BUCKS AND EWES.
I OFFER FOR SALE AT MY RANCH IN LINN county, seven miles from Harrisburg
40 MERINO BUCKS,
1, 2 and 3 years old
40 MERINO EWES,
1, 2, 3 and 4 years old
Which will be sold at reduced reasonable rates for cash or for good notes at 12 months time bearing interest. These are the FIRST CHOICE of the
MONSON & JEWETT IMPORTATION,
Brought to Oregon in October 1873, and proved to have been the best importation ever made to our State. Seventeen of these Merino Bucks last year sheared 331½ pounds, ranging from 17 to 25 pounds, averaging exactly 19½ lbs. to the fleece. The fleeces of the Ewes last year averaged 14½ lbs and this year they average over 10 lbs to the fleece. My Bucks are not yet sheared this spring.
These sheep are PERFECTLY HEALTHY and thoroughly acclimated, and show great improvement in our soil, both as to size of animals and weight of fleece.
ALSO FOR SALE
Thoroughbred English Cotswold Bucks and Ewes.
As fine as are on the Coast
My Cotswold Bucks last year averaged 14½ lbs. Ewes 11 lbs. to the fleece.
Address me at PORTLAND or visit the ranch where my agent will show the stock and the sample fleeces. Sample fleeces can be seen at L GOLDSMITH & CO'S, Portland.

FIRST LOVE

JULIA WARD HOWE

When first we love you know we seldom wed
Time rules us all And life indeed is not
The thing we planned it out ere hope was dead
And then we women cannot choose our lot

Much must be borne which it is hard to bear
Much given away which it were sweet to keep
God help us all who need indeed His care
And yet I know the Shepherd loves his sheep

My little boy begins to babble now
Upon my knee his earliest infant prayer
He has his father's eager eyes I know
And they say too his mother's sunny hair

But when he sleeps and smiles upon my knee
And I can feel his light breath come and go
I think of one—Heaven help and pity me—
Who loved me and whom I loved long ago

Who might have been—ah I dare not think
We are all changed God judges for us best
God help us do our duty and not shrink
And trust in Heaven humbly for the rest

But blame us women not, if some appear
Too cold at times and some too gay and light
Some griefs gnaw deep some woes are hard to bear
Who knows the past? and who can judge us right

Ah were we judged by what we might have been
And not by what we are too apt to fall
My little child—he sleeps and smiles between These thoughts and me In Heaven we shall know all

THE MUTINY ON THE JEFFERSON BORDEN

The London Times, of the 4th ult publishes the following dispatch.

The fishing lugger Secret, of Worthing, Chester, master, which arrived at Plymouth yesterday, brings the report of a mutiny at sea on Saturday night about twenty miles off the Eddystone The Secret was hailed by the three-masted schooner Jefferson Borden. The vessel belongs to and is from Boston on a voyage to London with a general cargo The captain requested the master of the Secret to let him have one or two of his men to assist in taking the Jefferson Borden to London, as some of his crew had mutinied, and he was short of hands On going on board the men of the Secret met with a wretched spectacle—three men were in irons and literally covered with blood The captain stated that the crew had been divided into two watches during the voyage About ten days since, when one watch was below and himself in the cabin with his wife, he was startled by loud cries of "Murder!" He at once secured two revolvers which he had with him, and, rushing out of the cabin, was met by three of the crew who were armed with marlinspikes He fired on them with both revolvers, seven bullets entered one man, another was shot in the stomach, while the third received a very severe wound It appeared that for some time past the mutiny must have been thought of, and when these three men with the chief officer and a boy had the watch they took the opportunity of carrying their murderous ideas into effect They first of all bandaged and gagged the boy with the view of preventing his raising an alarm One of them got behind the chief officer and struck him a heavy blow on the head with a spike, felling him to the deck and breaking his skull They next proceeded to throw the boy overboard, but in the meantime the second officer had come on deck, and the three mutineers at once seized him, threw him overboard, and he was never seen afterward By this time the boy had succeeded in liberating himself, and called out for help His cries reached the captain, who, as already stated, at once rushed out of the cabin The ruffians evidently expected to have surprised him, and were not prepared for the reception which awaited them One of the men was an American, another a Frenchman, and the third a Russian Finn "

The London Daily Telegraph, of the 5th ult, gives the following additional particulars in a dispatch dated Gravesend, May 4

"The Norwegian bark Brevig, Captain Hansa Larsen, has arrived here, having parted company from the three masted schooner Jefferson Borden, Captain W M Patterson, of Boston, United States, and from New Orleans, the vessel on board which the terrible murders have been committed

"Captain Larsen, whom I have seen, reports that, being in bed at 6 30 on Thursday, April 21st, he was aroused by the first mate saying that an American schooner, flying flag half-mast high, seemed to require assistance The Captain accordingly bore down to the schooner, and hailed her, when Captain Patterson asked for two or three hands, saying both his mates were overboard The reply was, 'You can have one,' and the American then urged that two might be sent, as there was only the steward, besides himself, able to work the ship Captain Larsen sent his first mate and one man, being all he could spare, and some provisions On boarding the schooner, they saw a wounded man chained to the pumps The sailor who had been sent with the mate was startled at the sight, and was inclined to turn back, but, being a resolute young fellow, remained to the duty for which he had volunteered A terrible tale was told to the Norwegian captain. On the previous night, three of the crew—a Russian (or Finn), a Frenchman, and an American, it was said—had mutinied, and had killed the first and second mates in the way which had been reported, felling the first with a marlinspike, and throwing both overboard—the second alive The first mate was the Captain's brother, and was named Corydon T Patterson, the second was a cousin, named Charles H Patterson The Captain's wife says the survivors have confessed that they intended to murder all hands, then to run as near the land as they could, and then scuttle the ship, and to take to the boats, their object being, it is supposed, plunder "

WHAT DO WE LIVE FOR?

Not more, but better If we live only to eat, drink, dress sleep, and get money we had better ignore astronomy and die But if we are here to grow mentally to enlarge the soul, to expand and develop ourselves, to make ourselves through the medium of the bodily organs, acquainted with our relations to all other things and beings in the universe, we had better study the "shining frame" of the "starry heavens" and live on There is no way to approach God except through His works The more we know of His works, the more we shall be assimilated to the God nature Who is there that cannot see room for improvement in this direction? Let him "go hence" in a "chariot of fire" at once and "stand not upon the order of his going" When we pass through the "dark valley" what shall we find of earth on the "other side of Jordan?" Ourselves "Only that and nothing more" We shall be as destitute as when we were born, of everything except the "treasures laid up in heaven" As we brought nothing into the world except ourselves, we can take nothing out of it except ourselves, and our possessions in the long hereafter will be just what we have added to ourselves here This truth is respectfully commended to the prayerful consideration of the Astors, the Stewarts, the Vanderbilts, the Goulds and the Drews What a thought—that the great and powerful of this world, the railroad magnates, the money lords, the merchant princes, the successful stock gamblers the "green bay trees" of prosperity, whose enormous wealth has impoverished thousands, and cursed their children and their children's children, may be found in the other world "poor indeed," the intellectual dwarfs and moral pigmies of society there I am almost disposed to believe in "re incarnation" for their sake, so as to give them another chance What a "great gulf" may appear between them and the Coopers, the Peabodys, the Cornells, the Whitworths, and the Licks —Science of Health

A little son of David Gorkin near Silverton, Marion county, fell from a tree, last week and broke his leg

The week opened with a very fair degree of activity in business circles but no improvement is noticed in the condition of the money market which is ruling quiet as before The banks exhibit about as much life as earlier in the season but the transactions at present embrace smaller sums in single instances though the aggregate volume is reported nearly up to the average for the month so far The loan market manifests no important change either in the volume of supply or in terms Prime commercial paper is taken readily and approved real estate security meets with a fair degree of favor The former however is preferred by most lenders

It is most convenient to handle Rates are varied somewhat according to the size of the transaction and the length of time for which accommodation is sought, Ten to 12 per cent on one two or three year loans is the current rate while sixty or ninety days favors are usually taxed with something in the way of commission Special transactions however are so varied that no ruling quotations could be given which could cover them all.

Trade affairs are also fully as animated as at the close last week a fair number of buyers for this season of the year being yet in the market though city merchants are not so busy as when the bulk of the spring trade was upon them Prices in imported merchandise have not varied in any direction during the past fortnight though leading groceries have exhibited a firm tendency throughout This is noticeable in the staple commodities of sugars syrups and coffees The stocks of these articles now on hand in this market are not very large and the demand is larger than was experienced a few weeks ago and the advance then predicted has not yet occurred

The domestic produce market is quite dull to day and no important transactions are noted of leading products. Shipments are falling off in most lines though those of flour wool and provisions are still kept the wool exports promising to be much larger than in any previous season In wheat there is scarcely anything doing The Carn Tual has loaded and cleared and the City of Vienna is the only vessel now in port She will probably be the last wheat laden vessel to leave our port for a foreign country before harvest In no domestic product has any change in quotations occurred since our last report.

The Wheat Countries of the World.

The United Kingdom of Great Britain is allowed to be the greatest of wheat importers in the world her annual consumption being estimated at 22 000 000 quarters or 183½ million bushel Her home product of the cereal in 1874 is placed at 111 million bushels leaving to be supplied by importation during the year [illegible] million bushels The imports from September 1st 1874 to March 7th 1875 was 46 20[illegible] 725 bushels the amount in transit on the last named date was 12 18 126 bushels, leaving a balance to be supplied from imports at that time of 9 849 582 bushels, against 37 065 0[illegible] bushels to be supplied from imports on [illegible] at a corresponding date in 1874

It is barely possible that the crop of wheat in the United Kingdom in 1874 may not be as large as has been estimated The estimate has been made by competent and reliable authority as being ten per cent above an average The average wheat crop in the United Kingdom for 1[illegible] years including amount used for seed has been 13 93[illegible] quarters In the foregoing calculation the crop of 1874 is estimated at 13 7[illegible]0 000 qrs or 182 [illegible]3 qrs less than the average for 17 years

There were harvested in France in 1874 according to the government statistics 124 million hectolitres (42⅜ million bushels) of wheat This was doubted when the figures were first made public several months since but these figures have quite recently been confirmed by the minister of agriculture The annual consumption of wheat is placed at 90 275 490 hectolitres equal to 256 29[illegible] 156 bushels of 60 pounds including 244 035 730 bushels for the food of the population and 12 256 [illegible] bushels for seed food for animals manufactures and other purposes,

If the crop of 1874 was 124 million hectolitres and the annual average consumption for all purposes is 90 275 490 hectolitres then France had a surplus of wheat from the crop of 1874 over consumption for all purposes of [illegible]21 510 hectolitres equal to 122 957,671 bushels

It is quite generally conceded that the crop of wheat grown in France in 1874 aggregated 115 million hectolitres and if 60 million hectolitres be allowed for alimentary food 15 million for seed 1 million for feeding purposes and 4 million for industrial purposes there would be a remaining surplus of 23 million hectolitres, and if the crop was 124 million hectolitres there would be a remaining surplus over consumption for all purposes of 32 million hectolitres

During the first five months of the harvest year from Sept 1 to Jan 31 1874 75 the exports of wheat and flour from France have considerably exceeded the imports. From the foregoing it seems to appear that the surplus wheat of other portions of the earth than France will find small chances for its market in the latter country during the year 1875

The average export of Russia for the nine years ending with 1872 was 50 [illegible]88 548 bushels of wheat It has been stated that there was in the Russian Empire an average crop of wheat in 1874 which will give an average surplus of 51 000 000 bushels for export

Hungary had an under average wheat crop in 1873 and a full average wheat crop in 1874 with 12 000 000 to 20 000 000 bushels surplus for export in the latter year

Italy Portugal and Spain will probably have to import wheat to a moderate extent in 1875 to supplement their own home product of wheat.

Germany had about a full average wheat crop in 1874 as well as Austria

Switzerland is always an importer of wheat which generally is imported from France and other foreign wheat through the port of Marseilles

Belgium requires to import foreign wheat and flour to supplement her own crop to an extent ranging from four or five to twelve million bushels

An elaborate crop report is before us carefully compiled from statements by competent parties at one hundred and fifty points in Ohio Indiana Illinois Missouri and Iowa These statements indicate that from one quarter to one third of the crop of winter wheat has been killed but that has been nearly offset by the increased number of acres sown and the quantity of spring wheat will if everything is favorable henceforth bring the whole production up to that of an average crop About one quarter of last year's crop still remains in the hands of the farmer, No considerable quantity of wheat ground is reported as having been plowed The amount of corn being put in this year greatly exceeds that of last year

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives Sarsaparilla Dock, Stillingia and Mandrake with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting It purifies the blood purges out the lurking humors in the system that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ or organs whose action they derange and whose substance they disease and destroy AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood When they are gone the disorders they produce disappear such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones Side and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns

HAIR
RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness and making the hair grow thick and strong

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual or desirable

Dr A A Hayes State Assayer of Massachusetts says of it "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes"

Buckingham's Dye,

FOR THE WHISKERS

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade to brown or black at discretion It is easily applied being in one preparation and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off

MEDICAL.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES! NEW REMEDIES!

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, COR. COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal hospitals of Europe and has resumed practice at his Dispensary 623 Kearney street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at these pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and those broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation they suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents [illegible] attend to those who are suffering from any of these horrible life-destroying [illegible] see that they are cared for and cured before [illegible] immediately to DR. GIBBON [illegible] made private diseases his [illegible] and who is certain to cure the most [illegible] without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted [illegible] who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from [illegible] other places. Be therefore careful and make due inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of [illegible] This solitary vice, or [illegible] practiced by the young [illegible] unlimited extent, produces [illegible] ty, the following train [illegible] combated by scientific [illegible] low countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was not cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco [illegible]

Married Men,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DR. GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets, for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at the office of his ability to treat diseases that he can to cure.

Cured at Home.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union. All communications strictly confidential. Address DR. J. F. GIBBON 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial San Francisco Postoffice Box 1,957. REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.

☞ Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the DAILY OREGONIAN. 1y5ddw
